

Macro Recorder brings Self-hosted AI to the PC/Mac Desktop

Trier, March 27, 2025 – Bartels Media GmbH releases version 4 of its desktop automation software, Macro Recorder, now with self-hosted AI integration, including DeepSeek and Llama 3.x.

Automation Software for Mac and Windows

Macro Recorder is a keyboard and mouse recorder, freeing users from repetitive tasks. It captures mouse clicks and keyboard input for unlimited playback. Unlike traditional automation tools that depend on fixed X/Y coordinates, it identifies visual environment near the click position, ensuring accurate targeting even if elements shift on the screen.

Local AI on Your Desktop – More Than Just Prompts

AI engines typically provide only a prompt and leave it up to the user to copy the response where it is needed.

Macro Recorder integrates AI into the desktop environment, enabling AI-powered capture, analysis, and generation of text and images in any program. For example, it can identify objects in a screen area, count them, and generate multiple variations based on the captured data, saving it to a file or pasting it into another program.

Macro Recorder provides a no-code solution for integrating AI into desktop automation, eliminating the need for programming skills.

Self-Hosted AI on the Desktop for Maximum Privacy

The new version adds support for self-hosted AI engines with the latest language models, such as DeepSeek, Llama 3, and Qwen 2.5, integrating AI onto the PC/Mac desktop while maintaining full data privacy.

Web Page Scraper

Macro Recorder v4 can extract text from web pages for desktop automation purposes. For example, it can retrieve specific content from a webpage using RegEx and XPath filters and then AI-generate text variations, list keywords, and save the results to a file or feed them into another web page.

A fully featured Macro Recorder trial version can be downloaded free of charge from <https://www.macrorecorder.com/>

Macro Recorder Standard Edition is priced at US$99.95, the Pro Edition at $149.95, and the Enterprise Edition at $249.95.
